Battle River Federal Constituency U. F. A. Annual Convention

H. E. Spencer Gives Report Of Session

The Convention opened at Wainwright Buffalo Park Pavilion, at 10 a.m. under the chairmanship of Mr. Walter Skinner, assisted by Mr. Andrew Wood.

Mrs. D. East was appointed secretary, with Mr. Urquhart as assistant.

The President Mr. Walter Skinner gave the annual report, which was followed by the financial statement presented by the secretary.

An innovation was made this year, by giving the Juniors representation at the convention.

Mr. Spencer the Federal member was called upon to give an account of what had taken place in the House of Commons during 1934.

In giving his Annual Report of the Session, Mr. Spencer said that it had been one of the busiest since 1921, during which a large amount of constructive legislation had been passed on the statute books.

The speech from the Throne, though outlining the general trend of Government legislation was by no means a complete survey. He quoted the amendment of the Official Opposition, also the sub-amendment made by the Co-operating Groups, both of which were defeated.

The Budget of this year was somewhat of a surprise. No new taxation was assessed except that on gold, while sundry small reductions were allowed in taxation, which should be effective.

The main reduction was that on the Sugar Tax, from 2 to 1 cent a pound.

No change was made in the Income Tax, but of 55 changes in the tariff, 53 were slight decreases.

The main items of expenditure were those for interest on Debt, War Pensions, Care of Soldiers, Provincial Subsidies and Old Age Pensions, being a total of $218,700,000 or 56 1/2 per cent of total expenditures. This is all included in what might be termed uncontrollable.

The Budget deficit this year was 76 millions, plus 59 millions C.N.R. making a total of 135 millions.

Mr. Spencer quoted from two amendments to the Budget made by the Official Opposition, and two of the Co-operating Groups, all of which were ruled out of order.

He made reference to the most important of the resolutions on the Order Paper, and gave an account of the fate of each. Reference was also made to the Special Committees such as Price Spreads, Mass Buying, Franchise and Election Acts, the Committee on Civil Service and that of Radio.

Mr. Spencer gave a list of legislation of the greatest importance from amongst which might be noted the following on much of which he submitted detailed information.

Financial—Bank of Canada Bill; Bank Act Revision; Amendment to Dominion Bank Notes Act; Financing of Public Works by $40,000,000 note issue; Government guarantee to Banks—$96,000,000; Repeal of Finance Act.

Agricultural—Live stock and Live-stock Products Act; Dominion Marketing Board; Amendment to Canada Grain Act re Garnet Wheat; Compromises between Farmers and Creditors Act; Canada Farm Loan Amendment.

Other Legislation—Bureau of Translations Bill; Unemployment and Farm Relief; Tax on Gold; Reduction on Sugar Tax; Franchise and Election Acts; Loan Companies Act Amendment; Soldier Settlement Act Amendment; and the Companies Act.

Mr. Spencer had been requested to divide his report, one to deal with the general work of the session, the other to review the work of the Banking and Commerce Committee of which he was a member. He therefore dealt in some detail also with the latter subject.

At the end of each report the audience was invited to ask questions.

During the evening Mrs. Ross, the Vice-President of the U.F.W.A. and P. Essenauser, M.L.A. both addressed the convention.

A special Conference of the women was held in the town during the afternoon, under the direction of Mrs. Postans, the U.F.W.A. Director for Battle River.

During the day when opportunity "red", games were entered into by many of the delegates and visitors, ending with a short dance for the Juniors.

Wainwright Provincial Constituency U. F. A. Annual Convention

Hon. J. R. Love Addresses Meeting

On Monday last the annual convention of the Wainwright Provincial Constituency Association was held in the L.O.O.F. Hall in Wainwright, visitors being present from as far East as Chauvin and West as Irma.

The Principal features of the Convention were the addresses of Hon. J. R. Love, Hon. Mr. Lymburn, the election of officers and the discussion of resolutions.

The election of officers for the coming year resulted in the following Board: President—Mr. H. Postans, Vice-President—Mr. Hugh Lacy, Secretary—Mr. Fred Ford with the following directors: J. W. Armour, Mr. Leggett, B. C. Lees, Fred Ford and Mr. Ar hur.

The Committees responsible for the conducting of the convention were Order of Business, H. Lacy and D. Collette; Resolutions, A. Armour and J. W. Shaver; Credentials, B. C. Lees.

The resolutions were varied and included one urging the completion of the Edmonton-Wainwright—Irma boundary high way; another that the annual convention be held in Edmonton as being more central but was lost as the majority did not feel it would be any more convenient and also enjoyed coming to Wainwright; that the convention be held Wednesday rather than Monday as being more convenient for the women especially, and as a delegate remarked "the women had their way"; that resolutions be submitted to the meeting before being spoken to from the platform; that representation to our annual convention be extended to members of the C.C.F. groups on the same basis of representation and instructions that the Board draw up such a resolution and submit it to the next convention so that it may be incorporated in the By-Laws.

Further resolutions which carried after discussion were resolutions, asking that examination papers from Grade VIII upward be marked by Government examiners; that the government enact legislation to allow use of the recall by allowing a request from 20% of the voters of the last previous election for the recall of a member who or whose the floor of the house, that any legislation so vitally affecting country communities as the recent change in the liquor laws be referred to the people and asking for a plebiscite at the next election regarding beer by the bottle; a resolution commending Mr. Norman Smith for his editorial "The Crucifixion of John Brownlee" and a most hearty vote of confidence in Hon. Mr. Brownlee, Hon. J. R. Love and the new premier, Hon. R. G. Reid.

Hon. Mr. Lymburn spoke of the tragedy of the founding out of office of a man of the ability and integrity of Mr. Brownlee and expressed the opinion that as far as one human being can be sure of another he was absolutely convinced of the innocence of Mr. Brownlee knowing him as intimately as he did. He commented on the work of the Government in many departments and dealt with many criticisms of Mr. Brownlee's speeches through the country and pointed out that it was the man who delivered these speeches which were wildly extravagant and contradictory.

Lillie Gray. Closing Hymn—Blest Be the Tie That Binds.

Like you, my soul would smooth her plumes for longer flights beyond the tomb who was attempting to take over the position of the management of the business of the province.

Hon. J. R. Love who was congratulated on his appointment to the cabinet dealt in a very able manner with the question of the finances of the government and replied to the charges levelled against the government of extravagance and bad management. He showed how figures were juggled by critics of this government to mis-represent the situation as regard to increased expenditures and with a chart presented the figures to the meeting. It was clearly pointed out that to live within the provincial income at present, would involve the cutting off of some need-

ANNOUNCEMENT

A general meeting of the Board of Trade is called to meet on Thursday evening at 8 p.m. in the Town Hall. All citizens interested in the welfare of the Town of Wainwright will endeavor to be present. Don't forget the time. Don't forget the place, but if you do, be there anyway.

SAYS DEMAND FOR WHEAT WILL TAKE UP SURPLUS

London.—Sir Herbert Robson, president of the London Corn Trade Association, turned his gaze on the world wheat advisory commission, warning it against too great efforts to fix export quotas and set a minimum world price.

The extensive drought, almost general throughout the world, completely upsets all previous calculations and the prospects now are the demand for wheat will take up the potential supply, he said.

Members of the commission, which will resume meetings here next month, immediately assailed Robson's contentions. They pronounced his long statement "the most ill-considered yet."

Assuming that it is the wish of traders of London, Antwerp, Rotterdam and Liverpool that the commission confine its activity to curtailment of acreage, Robson said, "it seems highly probable that the price of wheat will continue to rise the next few months."

"Already the price of wheat in Canada and United States has been such that some margin of profit ought to be securable by the farmer."

Robson ridiculed the commission for "maintaining" only five per cent as a satisfactory increase in price in its April report on the minimum price fixing scheme. He said that neither governments nor traders considered this sufficient to "leave the farmer a reasonable margin of profit."

Robson then cited statistics to establish that what he called the worst drought in 40 years boosted prices 18.5 per cent. from April 19 to July 17 for wheat for delivery at Liverpool in October. In the same period July wheat at Winnipeg went up 28.8 per cent, he said.

He detailed the situation in a letter to the Times. In the United States, he said, the wheat crop "has largely failed. The very large surplus will be barely sufficient to provide a normal carryover at the end of the season. It is quite possible she will have to import Canadian or Argentine wheat."

The Australian crop looked like being a partial failure, yielding 130,000,000 bushels compared with 215,000,000 in 1932-33, he added.

Owing to the drought, Canada would have a poor crop, yielding between 300,000,000 and 320,000,000 bushels, he estimated, with a carry-over of about 180,000,000 bushels, bringing the total to 480,000,000 or 500,000,000 bushels.

And in Argentina, the last of the big four, whose huge shipments in late months upset the international wheat export quota agreement, he forecast a possibility of some reduction in acreage.

He estimated the probable requirements of Europe and extra European countries combined, from overseas, at around 560,000,000 bushels. They would almost certainly be larger than during the current season, he declared.

Against this, Sir Herbert said the great exporting countries might have these surpluses, excluding their normal carry-over: United States, none; Australia, 50,000,000 bushels; Argentina, 140,000,000 bushels; Canada, 360,000,000 bushels; sundries, 20,000,000 bushels.

He added these to balance the expected 560,000,000 import-demand by Europe.

Rains Continue In Poland

Flood Toll Mounts And Many Bridges Carried Away

Warsaw.—Floods in southern Poland which counted at least 53 victims, mounted as heavy rainfall continued.

Tarnow, at the juncture of several rivers, was the latest city threatened.

Two trains of sleepers were hurrying with postmen from Krakow to Blazy Saca, where if you were in refuge on a dry peak when a labor camp was invaded by the roaring waters. Communications between Krakow and Lwow were cut and more than 12,000 feet of bridges carried away by the swollen streams.

Seed Officials Meet

Conference Held At Saskatoon Is Well Attended

Saskatoon.—Further standardization of the work of the federal seed branch inspectors in the four Western provinces was accomplished as the result of a three-day conference of all the inspectors from Fort William to the Rocky Mountains which concluded here. Meeting with the federal men were the field men connected with the branch of the Saskatchewan department of agriculture.

The conference took the form of a short refresher course in cereal grains, identification of varieties and variations within varieties and the identification of disease that attack cereal crops.

Work of the conference was directed by Nelson Young, Saskatoon; G. M. Stewart, Calgary; J. E. Blackburn, Winnipeg, district inspectors for the federal seed branch; and by H. H. Vigor, field crop director for the provincial government.

The historical background of plant breeding was outlined by Dr. J. B. Harrington, professor at the University of Saskatchewan, who pointed out the necessity for seed growers to maintain the purity of strains in their plots. Mr. Harrington also spoke upon the identification of varieties of cereals, and the separation of any kinds of crosses that might be found in seed grain plots.

He emphasized apparent changes which different environments might cause in varieties, and cautioned the inspectors to take account of these changes in passing judgment upon the purity of the strains grown. He showed how cross pollination of varieties sown too close together might come about, pointing out that the results from crosses of this kind were as disastrous to pure strains as sowing two varieties of seed in the same plot.

Still Paying One-Third

Alberta Making No Change In Direct Relief Costs

Edmonton.—One-third of the direct relief costs will continue to be paid by the province, notwithstanding the action of the Dominion government in cutting to 25 per cent its contribution to this effect was reached at a cabinet council meeting and has been sent to Mayor Knott, of Edmonton, and Mayor Davison, of Calgary.

No time limit has been set for this rate to apply. And it will, therefore, continue indefinitely, it is learned from Premier Reid.

Action has also been taken by the government on Edmonton city council's request for a federal loan of $1,000,000 for public works, approving the loan and agreeing to make application for it to Ottawa.

Trade With China

Growing Market For Canadian Products In The Orient

Vancouver.—Trade between China and Canada has fallen off considerably since the outbreak of hostilities on the side and adverse monetary exchange on the other, Major Victor Duclos, Canadian trade commissioner at Hong Kong, declared on his arrival from the Orient aboard the liner Empress.

Major Duclos stated there is a growing market in China for Canadian merchandise, but Canadian businessmen, in order to develop that market, must pay greater attention to its potentialities and keep closely in touch with it.

The trade commissioner left for Ottawa and Montreal.

Prices Remain Steady

Ottawa.—The Dominion bureau of statistics index number of wholesale prices on the base of 1926 equals 100 remained unchanged at 71.9 for the week ending July 13. Grains advanced sharply and livestock averaged higher, but flour, hides, eggs and copper were lower. Since the beginning of June there has been a definite tendency in prices to remain steady at close to current levels.

Confer With Dominions

London.—Conversations between the government of the United Kingdom and the Dominion governments in regard to the projected 1935 naval conference are proceeding through normal channels, the House of Commons was informed by Stanley Baldwin, acting prime minister.

More Cars Produced

Ottawa.—Automobile production in Canada in 1933 amounted to 65,852 cars, with a sales value, f.o.b. plant, of $38,530,463, the Dominion bureau of statistics has announced. This was an increase of 8.3 per cent in number but only .2 per cent in value from 1932.

WILL MEET TO DECIDE FATE OF WHEAT PACT

Washington.—Three nations which are parties to the international wheat agreement would decide the fate of the compact which seeks to limit world wheat production and raise world prices.

The United States, Australia and Canada, principal exporters of the bread grain, requested that a meeting be held August 14 at London to attempt to reach "a complete understanding" on the agreement for next year. They left the intimation they would seek a show-down on the position of Argentina, fourth principal signatory.

Evidence to support this belief came in the guarded statement of departments of agriculture, which said that they were withholding final decision on domestic wheat curtailment plans for next year pending outcome of the August meeting.

In requesting the London meeting next month the three countries, in a joint letter to Andrew Caines, secretary of the conference, declared they attached utmost importance to maintaining the agreement and would make every effort to continue it.

Minneapolis, Minn.—World wheat affairs were discussed here by representatives of the Canadian and United States departments of agriculture.

The meeting was preliminary to the World Wheat Conference in London, which starts Aug. 25, and was to determine what Canada and the United States positions would be to ward continued wheat acreage reduction and if possible arrive at a unanimity of purpose.

Participating in the conference was Chester Davis, administrator of the agricultural adjustment administration; Dr. Mordecai Ezekiel, economic adviser to Secretary Henry A. Wallace, of the United States department of agriculture; Dr. C. T. Grant, of the department of agriculture of Canada; C. W. McFarland, manager of the Canadian Wheat Pool; G. E. Wheeler, Paul Nicholas and George Eastbrook, of the United States department of agriculture, and F. E. Murphy, of Minneapolis, delegate to the London and Rome wheat conferences.

At the London wheat conference, when a world-wide acreage reduction programme was launched, Canada and the United States stood together on most of the reduction programme and it was anticipated that a preliminary plan for the two nations would be worked out.

Wheat Harvested In Alberta

Lethbridge. Cutting of winter wheat has started on the farm of Frank Wentz at Grassy Lake, about 50 miles east of here. Winter wheat has ripened rapidly under the warm weather of the past week. It will make a fair average crop. Rain would be welcomed for the spring grains show a heavy stand.

Argentina Wants Wheat Export Quota Raised

Agricultural Minister Says Large Crop Makes It Necessary

Buenos Aires.—Argentina's ministry of agriculture proposed that the nation's wheat export quota be raised at next month's international wheat conference to 150,000,000 bushels. At present the quota is 110,000,000 bushels.

A communique by the agricultural minister stated that the abundance of the last crop necessitates a larger export quota to overcome surpluses.

Four proposals to stabilize the world wheat market were definitely rejected by Argentina. They are Argentina's adherence to a minimum price, a limitation of exports the second year by agreement to 108,000,000 bushels, a reduction of seeding to regulate yearly exports to 110,000,000 bushels, and an agreement to denaturalize wheat exceeding the export quota and domestic consumption.

It was contended the scheme to fix a minimum world price on wheat has proved a failure. Denaturalizing of wheat was held to be impractical because the United States and Canada, "the accumulated stocks of which are responsible for the present situation," have not adopted that procedure.

Waik Henderson To Resign

London.—The resignation of Arthur Henderson from his post as secretary of the Labor party, will be demanded at the party's annual convention in October by the Putney and Harrow committees. These two London suburbs feel that Henderson has devoted himself entirely to the disarmament conference of which he is president.

Aid For Settlers

London.—The British government is to make further concessions to British settlers who became destitute in the State of Victoria, Australia, in order to enable some of those who have already returned home to go back and make a fresh start.

Explorer Thought Lost

Hope Abandoned For Young Britisher Who Attempted To Scale Mount Everest

Darjeeling, India.—Hope has been abandoned for Maurice Wilson, young British flying officer, who started out on an ambitious attempt to conquer Mount Everest, snow-banded.

Wilson flew an aeroplane to India from England with the hope of planting a Union Jack on the summit of Mount Everest. The authorities here vetoed his plans, so he decided to attempt the climb which has yet to be achieved.

Wilson progressed for some days until he established his camp No. 3 high on the slopes. He left his porters there and continued the grim climb alone, taking a small tent, an ice-axe and a quantity of food, with a camera.

He was last sighted high up, nearing the location where he proposed to establish what he called camp No. 5.

His porters now have waited for three weeks without any word from Wilson and they returned to Darjeeling to report their conviction Wilson had lost his life.

Trade Increases

Foreign Trade Showing Slight Increase, Says Census Report

Geneva.—The decline in the volume of foreign trade which began some five years ago with the depression, reached bottom in 1933, and a slight increase was noted in the last few months, a general resume of world trade for 1933, issued by the League of Nations economic information service shows.

From 1932 to 1933 the volume of trade declined 10 per cent. by value expressed in gold, or five per cent. by volume expressed in sterling.

Increases in 1933 were registered chiefly in raw materials, which increased by eight per cent, and manufactured goods to two per cent.

HEPBURN PAVES WAY TO RECEIVE HUNGER PARADE

Toronto.—Notice was served on the city of Toronto that its police commission must not pursue a policy at variance with that of the Ontario government. In the latest move in the battle between Queen's Park and the city hall the government has ordered members of the Toronto police commission and replaced them by two others.

The new commissioners are expected to rescind the order banning a parade and demonstration of hunger marchers from Ontario centres in Toronto on July 30. Mayor William Stewart, who has been almost continuously in controversy with Premier Mitchell Hepburn since the new Liberal government took office, is expected to resign the commission. To-day he will find himself flanked on either side by a commissioner appointed by the Liberal government.

"It can hardly be expected," said Hon. Arthur Roebuck, attorney-general, "that appointments of the government shall remain in office while defiantly announcing a procedure open contrary to the settled policy of the government."

The new commissioners are Frank Denton, K.C., prominent Liberal, and Judge W. T. J. Lee, of the county court of York. They replace J. R. L. Starr, K.C., and County Judge James Parker.

The city police commission passed an order banning any parade or demonstration of hunger marchers in Toronto while Premier Hepburn was asking provincial police to accord the marchers every courtesy and promising to meet their representatives. When Mayor Stewart heard the premier had promised to appoint an official to confer with city police authorities with a view to co-operation in facilitating the march he accused the government of interfering in city affairs and declared he would oppose the police commission and defend the rights of the city to the limit.

The premier and the attorney-general retorted by charging the mayor with attempting to prevent a group of citizens appealing to the government, called him a tyrant and accused him of trying to throttle free speech and set an armed police force on a body of innocent citizens.

The Ontario government will make no gesture towards the maintenance of delegates to the proposed hunger march, Hon. David Croft, minister of welfare, told a committee of the hunger marchers.

UPHEAVAL IN GERMANY CAUSE OF MANY RUMORS

Berlin.—Allegations from abroad that 2,000 Germans have been massacred since the upheaval of June 30, and the prisoners and guards at Dachau concentration camp had been killed off, spread rapidly through Germany, adding to a wealth of rumors.

So far as could be determined they had their basis in mere rumor. The stories were promptly denied, but the conclusion remained in many quarters that the government had not dealt sufficiently frankly with the S.A. revolt.

It was felt that internal changes were under way which for want of anything like an explanation created apprehensions in such circles as the storm troops.

Stories of "executions without executions" and "killings within killings" in Nazi ranks continued to gain currency.

It was rumored in many quarters the executioners of Robert von Bose, Vice-Chancellor Franz von Papen's personal aide, had in turn been executed himself.

This tended to confirm rumors that in numerous cases those who meted out execution during the bloody events of June 30 were now the victims of further efforts to repress all revolt in Germany.

While the German cabinet prepared to go on a vacation, denying rumors from abroad that Vice-Chancellor Franz von Papen had been involved in a coup d'etat, rumbling thunder of the after-effects of the revolt was becoming more audible.

The government has a number of pressing problems, including the prospects of dwindling food supplies, finances, unemployment relief and the various effects of the heat wave.

There is also evidence considerable internal reorganization is taking place within the party.

When told of a report Chancellor Hitler was a virtual prisoner of the reichswahr, one official remarked that in that case he is a "strange prisoner." He referred to the fact the army retained the salute to a cavalry regiment at Zossen drill field.

New Arms Treaty

Japanese To Confer With Washington In August

Washington.—Japanese spokesmen will visit Washington next month and will seek, by informal conferences, to prepare for the negotiations of a new naval arms limitation treaty in 1935.

These discussions are generally expected to include:

An effort by Japan to obtain a new understanding on respective positions and purposes in the Pacific to be extended to Great Britain.

The continuing Japanese quest for a bigger navy in proportion to Britain and the United States than is allowed by the present 5-5-3 ratio.

An attempt to forward a Japanese project of a non-aggression pact with the United States.

Attractions Of Canada

Ottawa.—An outstanding figure in British diplomacy in the Near East for many years, now retired, Sir Ronald Storrie, lately governor and commander-in-chief of Cyprus, declared that he was captivated by the attractions of Canada, his father's birthplace. Sir Ronald was an associate of Earl Kitchener, played a prominent part in the Arab revolt and who took Lawrence to Arabia.

Text Of Subsidy Bill

London.—The text of the government's bill to aid the domestic cattle industry was issued here, revealing that imported cattle must be in the United Kingdom during a continuous period of at least three months if the subsidy on slaughtered beef cattle is to be paid. The government is setting aside a sum of $15,000,000 to subsidize domestic cattle producers.

Noted Sculptor Dead

Montreal.—One of Canada's most noted sculptors, George William Hill, 72, died July 17 in his suburban Outremont home after an illness of 10 days. Among his best known materials are the nurses' monument in the Hall of Fame at Ottawa; Queen Victoria's jubilee monument in Victoria Square, Montreal; and the Sir Georges Etienne Cartier monument on Fletcher's Field, Montreal.

THE HIGHWAY

It is perhaps a tendency to which all humans are prone, sometimes to feel like saying "I told you so." And if we, during the Highway Meeting last week felt like saying that, it only goes to prove that we too, are human.

Before the gathering in the Town Hall, Hon. J. R. Love, Provincial Treasurer, emphasized the same ideas which were repeatedly expressed in the Editorial columns of the Record some time ago, that if a strong delegation of those interested, appeared before the proper authorities at Edmonton, it would strengthen the hands of those who were urging the Government to spend a fair percentage of road money within this constituency. With over 2000 miles of gravelled roads within the Province for which this constituency have paid their share in taxes, and not one mile of gravelled roads in the constituency, concerted action was surely overdue.

In his speech on Monday afternoon the local representative, who is also Provincial Treasurer, stated that it was recognized by the Government, that Wainwright was one of the most promising oil fields of the Province and he guaranteed his full support toward the completion of the Highway at as early a date as possible and urged that a strong delegation go to Edmonton shortly and appear before the Highways Commission, to place their request in a convincing manner.

The gathering, representative of all interested towns, villages and municipal districts between Irma and the boundary, decided to follow out the suggestion and as a result there will be a massed delegation journey to Edmonton on Friday morning, July 27th, to bring the matter before the proper authorities there. The Record wishes them Bon Voyage.

MINING AND FARMING

The Northern Miner, a Toronto publication, somewhat of an official organ for the mining industry in Canada, persistently gives to Canadian agriculture. The reason for this attitude is hard to understand. How can Canadian mining benefit by the belittling of Canadian agriculture?

It is true that agriculture in this country has been on its back for several years and that mining has and is experiencing something of a boom. All that is in the nature of events in the lifetime of such a country as ours. Agriculture will have its innings again and possibly mining will not be so prosperous when costs rise, as assuredly they will with returning prosperity.

Any idea that farming is one in Canada such as The Miner appears to have, is all nonsense. If by any chance it were true, Canada's future would be bleak indeed. A nation can live without mines, but without agriculture its position would be untenable.

If it comes to a comparison between the relative value of the two industries, mining and agriculture, The Miner certainly has not the heaviest end of the argument.

In one year Canadian agriculture has produced wealth totalling nearly twice the aggregate value of all the gold this country has produced since it was discovered.

The average annual purchases of Canadian farmers is approximately one billion dollars.

The railways, the banks, the manufacturers and the business life of this Dominion are kept going by the farmers of the various provinces.

The wheat and grain outlook is not nearly so dark as The Miner, with its lack of knowledge, indicates. This year Europe has produced at least a billion and a quarter bushels less of all grains than that continent produced last year. United States has not produced enough grains to feed her people and her livestock. A disaster to the crops of Canada, Australia or Argentina would produce widespread starvation throughout the world. Gold cannot be eaten.

Mining has been a wonderful asset to Canada and no sensible Canadian will seek to minimize its importance. But the top six inches of soil in the agriculture sections of Alberta is worth more than all the gold mines of the world. And Canada's farms will be producing wealth when Canada's mines are valueless holes in the ground.

Mining is a wasting industry. Farming is a continuing occupation.—Hanna Herald.

A request for relief from party in Div. 1. had been dealt with by Mr. Nash and Secretary.

Note made that Old Age Pension of Mr. Lewis had been approved by the Department and an application for Pension by Mr. Blason, was agreed to by the Council.

In The Same Boat

Canadians, and millions of people in the United States as well, recognize it to be an impossible proposition that the taxpayers of Great Britain should go on decade after decade trying to pay off a burden of debt when at the end of fifteen years of heroic paying they find themselves farther in debt than when they began.

But perhaps Canadians had better save some of their sympathy for themselves, for they have been doing the same thing, and at the end of the same fifteen year period are in essentially the same position as the British taxpayers.

In 1918 Canada's national debt was $1,863,335,899. In the intervening years we have paid as interest on the debt $1,886,618,819; and we still owe the entire amount. We owe more of course, for we have borrowed in the meantime, but that is "another story." The point is that over these fifteen years we paid the 1918 national debt, every dollar of it, and $28,000,000 besides, and have not reduced the obligation by one cent.

It has been said that the generation which creates a debt should pay it. Well, we have paid, to the last cent, the money we borrowed up to the close of the war. We are not handing on to our children the tax of paying for the war and for the railways we built in the great expansion period. We have paid those bills, in full. We are handing on to our children the indefensible obligation that they shall pay them over again, and over again after that.

If we saddled the next generation with adding more than the cost of our national improvements and our war effort, that would not be so bad, for they could do in the next fifteen years what we have done in the last, and be done with that legacy of debt. But we are reaping hard issues as they mature for twenty, thirty and forty years, as chattel mortgages on the earnings of children not yet born, the paying of which will not cancel the debt nor even reduce it.

Bond interest has cost Canada more in the last fifteen years than all the money we spent and won in the war, and all the money that has been spent in "works for the general advantage of Canada"—the "general advantage," it be noted, of the gentlemen to whom we have paid the interest, quite as much as that of anybody else.

If British cannot go on throwing money into the sink-hole of unpayable debt, neither can the taxpayers of Canada. As a matter of fact Britain is only paying half the interest rate to the United States financiers who put their ill-gotten gains into "tax exempt" high interest-bearing Dominion of Canada bonds.

Britain is in revolt against the "swallowing" process that would engulf it in the morass of usury. It is time the taxpayers of Canada did some revolting against the same process on their own account.

one case, the other being continued at present rates.

Two agreements to sell land required for road deviations in Divisions 5 and 6 were produced and ordered filed.

Payment of an account from the C.P.R. for land for a roadway in SE 49.4 was delayed, an agreement having been made with the Municipal District of Vermilion Valley, who were responsible for the road, to the effect that they would do the road work, and C. Bear would pay for the land. On motion the Reeve & Secretary was instructed to draw attention of Vermilion Valley Council to the condition of the road on the west of Sections 23 & 26-50.6 giving access to the Highway to traffic from the south.

Mr. McInnes for the C.P.R. waited on the Council with appeals against Wild Land Taxes, and was granted exemption on a number of parcels.

Estimates of Division expenditures for the season were now noted as on file for Division 1, 3, 4, 5 & 6.

Mr. L. Kehoe waited on the Council and made report of work done in connection with Weed Inspector.

On request of Mr. Symes, Council after discussion agreed to allow over spending in Div. 3 to the extent of $100.00 in view of co-operation of Buffalo Coulee Municipal District in improving condition of road between Range 6 and 7.

Notice submitted of a Municipal Conference to be held at Vermilion July 26th when Mr. Grey, Deputy Minister of Municipal Affairs, and Mr. McKenzie from Relief Department are expected to attend.

Engineers Meet

Trend Is Unmistakably Towards Better Things, Says Speaker

In the field of engineering the trend is unmistakably toward better things, Harrison P. Eddy, Boston, president of the American Society of Civil Engineers, told that body at the Western professional gathering of the Engineering Institute of Canada when he addressed the opening session of the four-day convention of the two organizations at Vancouver.

"It would be presumptuous for me to comment specifically upon the trend of engineering in Canada," said Mr. Eddy, "but I would not be loyal to the Engineering Institute of Canada, of which I have the honor of being a member, if I did not give public recognition to the splendid work which it has done in spreading and advancing the profession."

He suggested more frequent and closer co-operation between the Engineering Institute of Canada and the American Society of Civil Engineers. Civil engineers from all parts of the continent attended the dual convention.

Lives Sacrificed For Speed

Judge Delivers Terrible Indictment Of Motorists In Britain

"The roads of this country are strewn with the dead and dying," said a judge of the high court last week. He spoke advisedly. To the greater glory of the God of Speed 154 lives (the highest recorded holocaust, it would appear) were sacrificed in the last recorded week, and 4,971 persons were injured. Within the last two months more than a thousand have been slaughtered, and the maimed approach forty times that number. In the face of such a record the Minister of Transport's talk of fostering high speed and of conduct among road-users sounds a feeble irony. War is condemned for its bloodshed, and is made a warrant for every drastic resource. New York Man Wants To Get Back To Tahiti

Now he wants to get back in his 40-ton ketch to "where people are themselves." Says he of Tahiti: "There the people wear no masks. Even the whites after several months drop frowns and other facial affectations and become natural—or unnatural, as you prefer."

Little Journeys In Science

THE PLANT FACTORY

(By Gordon H. Guest, M.A.)

Scientists have been attempting for many years to find out how plants manufacture such complex materials as cellulose, starches, sugar, fats, proteins and vitamins, and it has been found that every plant contains a "little factory" in which there is built from the raw materials these products which are so essential to man's existence.

It is in the green leaf that this wonderful process takes place. The raw materials consist of carbon dioxide, water, and minerals from the soil. Carbon dioxide is a gas which occurs in the air to the extent of three to four parts in ten thousand parts of air. This gas enters the leaf through very small openings on the surface. The minerals must be soluble in the water which comes up to the green leaf through the roots and stem from the soil. Chlorophyll, the green coloring matter in plant leaves, plays an important part in this process, as photosynthesis, coming from the Greek word meaning "to build up by means of light."

Directly or indirectly all life is dependent on these minute plant factories. Here the plant produces its own food, and from the factory this food is sent to other parts of the plant for storage. Animals live on plants, and man in turn requires the meat of animals in his diet, thus closely associating man's existence with the stores of food which are built up through the process of photosynthesis. Further, we are dependent on it for wood, coal and oil. On these in turn depend steam power, motor transportation and other important factors in our civilization.

For many years scientists have attempted to duplicate in the laboratory this process which is carried on in the green leaf, but as yet attempts to do so on a practical scale have met with failure.

Agricultural Notes

Many Items Of Interest To The Western Farmer

No foreign wheat has been allowed to be imported into Prince for milling for domestic purposes since April 16, 1933.

Cornflower or Bachelor's button is one of the earliest hardy annuals to grow in Canada. Sown where it has no flower, it will seed itself from year to year.

African sleeping sickness in man and Tsetse fly disease of livestock are caused by a parasite of antelopes which causes no disease whatever in these animals.

From many of the feeding tests carried out at the Dominion Experimental Farms and elsewhere, it has been found that barley is an excellent substitute for corn in the feeding of livestock.

The Academy of Sciences, Leningrad, reports that the injection of ethyl alcohol by hypodermic needle into immature tomato fruits still attached to the plant hastened ripening.

Created wheat grass is an excellent seed producer. The yields vary from 100 to 800 pounds per acre, depending chiefly on the supply of available moisture. The seed is easily harvested and threshed with ordinary farm equipment.

A live animal weighing 1,300 pounds, well finished, will yield a dressed carcass of 700 pounds. Of this, there are only 200 pounds of really prime beef. The prime beef is made up of the sirloin, porterhouse and brisket steaks, and the prime ribs of the forequarter.

Canadian records show that by using two fans in refrigerator cars, one at each end in diagonally opposite corners, the temperature of fruit can be reduced a matter of 20 degrees in 8 or 10 hours fanning, saving the fruit to reach the consumer in good condition.

The Viking raspberry, originated at the Vineland, Ont., Horticultural Experiment station from a cross between Cuthbert and Marlboro varieties, has been found highly promising in Michigan according to a report from the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

In a study at the Institute for Feeding Technic at Breslau, Germany, it was discovered that dried sugar beets could be used to make up a large part of the ration for fattening green geese, if skim-milk and young clover or alfalfa were also given.

The provisional estimate of wool production in Australia for the season just closed (1 July, 1933, to 30 June, 1934) is 950,000,000 lbs. (greasy basis), a decrease of 111,000,000 lbs. on the estimate for the 1932-33 season. Next season's production is likely to show a fairly substantial increase.

Shading with reinforced cheesecloth having a thread count of 22 by 22 in experiments at Cornell University increased the length of stem and size of flower of all varieties. Aster, chrysanthemum, snapdragon, callendula, sweet pea and dahlias were among the most benefited. Insect injury was decreased.

Of the 676 pedigree swine registered during the month of June by the Canadian National Records and approved by the Dominion Minister of Agriculture, 551 were Yorkshire; 63 Berkshire; 45 Tamworth; 22 Chester White; 4 Poland China, and 1 Duroc Jersey. The registrations of pedigree horses numbered 251, of which 102 were Percherons; and of the 2,567 cattle registered, 1,952 were Ayrshire. Other registrations were 410 sheep; 28 foxes; 651 dogs; 1 poultry, and 11 goats (7 Toggenburg and 4 Saanen).

Famous Geologist Dies

Heat Prostration Overcomes American Savant In China

Rev. Stephen Richards, internationally known American geologist, died suddenly from heat prostration while investigating recent anthropological discoveries in Shantung.

A fellow of the American Geological Society, Richards during the last year had headed the department of Agriculture in the Catholic University at Peking, China. He was a member of the Society of the Divine Word.

Victims of the same heat wave were five Tibetan members of the entourage of the Panchen Lama, who were travelling to Peiping on a special train.

The rhododendron white fly has been found infesting a few nurseries in the vicinity of Vancouver and Victoria, B.C. This constitutes the first record of the pest in Canada and steps have been taken to eradicate it.

Explanations And Comments

Ahab and Jehoshaphat Allied Against Syria; verses 1-4. For three years, from the time of the covenant made with Elisha, king of Syria, whom the Israelites had so severely defeated (1 Kings 20:26-34), there had been peace between the Northern Kingdom of Israel and the Kingdom of Judah.

Meanwhile Israel and Judah had become friendly as proved by the marriage of Athaliah, the daughter of Ahab, king of Israel, and Jehoram, the son of Jehoshaphat, king of Judah. It is thought that Judah had become a vassal of Israel, for in our earlier today and again later (2 Kings 3:7-12) the king of Judah is seen aiding the king of Israel in the latter's wars, in which Judah herself had no interest.

Ahab reminded his followers that Ramoth in Gilead (east of the Jordan and north of the Jabbok) had belonged to their kingdom but had been seized by the Syrians. After Israel had defeated Ben-hadad, king of Syria, the latter had promised to restore to Israel the cities which the father had seized. This promise he had failed to keep. "Ramoth-gilead is ours, and we are still, and take it not out of the hand of the king of Syria," cried Ahab.

Ahab and the Prophets of Israel, verses 5-8. It was after Jehoshaphat had promised Ahab that "we will be with thee in the war," 2 Chronicles 18:3, that he asked Ahab to ascertain from the prophet the will of God in the matter. Ahab summoned four hundred prophets and all agreed that Jehoram would deliver the city into Ahab's hands. Ahab and Micahiah, verses 9-28. Jehoshaphat made assurance doubly sure and asked if he would not yet some other prophet. There was Micahiah, the son of Imlah. Ahab admitted, but he hated Micahiah, for he always prophesied evil. Jehoshaphat wished to have him summoned, nevertheless, and Ahab yielded.

The two kings in royal robes were sitting on their thrones on the broad open space before the gateway of Samaria, the usual place for public assemblies; before them were all the prophets protesting the defeat of the Syrians. One of them, named Zedekiah, had made horns of iron and was declaring that with these the Syrians would be consumed when Micahiah appeared. The messenger who had gone for him urged him to prophesy good even as all the other prophets had done, but Micahiah had sturdily asserted that he would prophesy only that which Jehovah told him.

When Micahiah approached the two kings Ahab asked him, "Shall we go to Ramoth-gilead to battle, or shall we forbear?" "Go up and prosper, and Jehovah will deliver it into the hand of the king," said Micahiah, ironically repeating the words of the four hundred. But when Ahab sternly said, "How many times shall I adjure thee that thou speak unto me nothing but the truth in the name of Jehovah?" Micahiah then told of a vision he had had, of the tribes of Israel scattered on the hills of Gilead like sheep who had lost their shepherd. And he heard a voice saying, "Thou has no master; let them return every one to his house in peace, 2 Chronicles 18:17, and I will not tell you," said Ahab to Jehoshaphat, "that he would prophesy evil?" In that vision, Micahiah could even see God enthroned in heaven surrounded by his host, debating with them as to who should entice him to go to Gilead to be slain. And one said on this manner and another said on that manner. "Jehovah-Gilead," Ahab and Ahab said, verse 29. Ahab asked Jehoshaphat to wear his royal robes into battle, but he disguised himself. With strict orders to kill the king of Israel, the chariots pursued Jehoshaphat, but desisted when it was known that he was not the king of Israel. A bow "drawn at a venture" pierced between the joints of the armor Ahab was wearing, and gave him his death wound.

Finest Rebuild In World

Has Been Rebuilt For Albert Hall In London

It is claimed for the organ which has now been rebuilt for the Albert Hall, London, that it is the finest of its class in the world. The rebuilding of the old instrument, begun eleven years ago, has been carried out on the most lavish scale. The weight of the instrument is nearly 175 tons, and it occupies 65,000 cubic feet of space. There are 176 draw-stops, 10,491 speaking pipes and four keyboards. Two electric motors, one of 10 h.p. and one of 5 h.p. drive the bellows, and supply wind up to 16 lb. inch pressure. Two 8 h.p. motors drive the rotary compressors which supply wind up to 30-inch pressure. Eighty miles of electric cable is used in connection with the blowing apparatus. It will cost £200 a year to keep the organ tuned.

Memorial Church In Baghdad Is Proposed

To Honor British Killed In Mesopotamia During War

An appeal for $20,000 to build a "Mesopotamian Memorial Church" in Baghdad is urged by the Archbishop of Canterbury, Sir Francis Humphrys, British ambassador in Baghdad, and others.

The building which has been used as a church since 1921 was originally a Turkish guardhouse, and will shortly have to be demolished owing to town-planning developments, and the construction of a steel bridge across the River Tigris. The British community in Baghdad, numbering some 400, is anxious for a permanent church, and a site has been acquired.

It is suggested the new church should be built as a memorial to the 41,115 British lives sacrificed in Mesopotamia during the war, and to those killed in Iraq. The building would include a memorial shrine containing a book inscribed with the names of those British men and women who gave their lives on Mesopotamian soil.

New Treatment For Arthritis

Paraffin Bath Makes Application Of Greater Heat Possible

Bathing rheumatic joints in hot paraffin is a valuable means of treating these conditions in arthritic patients. Dr. Bernard Langdon Wyatt, of Tucson, Arizona, has reported to the American Congress of Physical Therapy.

The paraffin bath enables the physician to apply greater heat to the pained joints than is possible with solutions, packs, fomenta, or radiant heat. Dr. Wyatt explained. The reason seems to be that a very insulating space forms between the patient's skin and the inner layer of the paraffin coating. The insulating space helps the patient to endure very high temperatures. The high temperature causes an increased supply of blood to the affected part, which relieves the pain and stiffness and enables the patient to move his joints more freely.

Convertible berths, very much like railroad sleeping sections, are provided on some of the air line passenger planes.

OCCASIONAL WIFE

By EDNA ROBB WEBSTER
Author of "Jettie," "Lipstick Girl" Etc.

SYNOPSIS

Camilla, Hoyt and Peter Anson, young and lively, marry secretly, deciding to live their own lives apart until Peter is able to provide for her. Peter is a young, struggling sculptor trying to win a competition for a scholarship abroad and Camilla is the adopted daughter of a wealthy family. She is not to inherit money when she comes of age and so is studying commercial art in the hope of landing an agency job. Others in the story are Avis Wray, another wealthy girl who is trying to win Peter, Sylvia Todd, Peter's model, and Gus Matson, his former roommate with whom he has quarrelled. After a party at an exclusive club, when the rest of the evening the party goes to a cabaret to continue the party. Peter and Camilla make the beach by themselves and fall asleep on the sand. When they awake it is early morning. Peter and Camilla are standing near them. This makes it necessary for Camilla to announce before the party that she and Peter are married. Camilla urges Peter to accept some of her earnings to help him along, but Peter refuses and they quarrel. After Camilla has gone from the studio, Avis Wray calls and persuades Peter to accept a loan of $1,000. Peter then shows his exhibit and asks Avis and Camilla for suggestions as to a name for it. Camilla suggests "Finger Youth," and Avis "Inspiration." Peter adopts the latter title and Camilla heartily goes to Peter's studio for quiet and to think. Peter and Avis follow later, and as the lights are turned on, see the statue has been shattered to pieces. Avis accuses Camilla of doing this, and Camilla, stunned by the disaster, and hurt and horrified by the accusation, faints.

At Camilla's suggestion, Peter enters as his exhibit a statue he has sculptured especially for her as a wedding gift. They named it "Land of Hope."

Camilla's advertising campaign was a success from the beginning, and it was arranged to have radio broadcasts, in addition to newspaper advertising. Camilla to both write the tiny Tota stories and to deliver them over the radio.

(Now Go On With The Story)

CHAPTER LIII

It was Avis who first learned the news, even before Peter himself. She had arranged with John Danforth that he should telephone her the result of the committee vote, immediately. To Peter Anson was awarded the Paris scholarship.

Avis was speechless with surprise, much as she had planned and hoped for that very thing. But her plans and hopes had done a right about face on the night when "Inspiration" was destroyed, and she had been progressing steadily toward another goal since then.

"You wouldn't jest with me, Uncle John?" she asked incredulously.

"Of course not, child. But I will admit that my vote must have been the deciding factor, because he won by just one point. The nude figure 'Flight' by someone named Neil Nelson, was his best rival, but I can honestly assure you that it wouldn't have been my choice had he not been done by a cannibal in the South Seas. In my opinion, the immigrant group was far better, and one of the two best. So I do hope that you are happy about it, my dear."

"So happy that I am sending you a kiss over the wire, to do until I see you. Get it?" jubilantly. "And now, I must tell Peter. Thanks a lot for calling me, Uncle John."

terribly sure that you hadn't a chance, darling. Oh, Peter, isn't it just too wonderful!"

"Not too wonderful to me," he drew a long breath of satisfaction, beginning to realize that his fondest dream had come true. "Now you just watch your husband make good. Nothing is going to stop me, not if I know it. I am going to work as I've never worked before! Think of it, Camilla—Dezpons, the Trocadero, all the masters and masterpieces of the world to study with and work from. Paris! the mecca of art and artists!"

"I'm so glad for you, dear Peter," she said softly and earnestly, then a wistful tone crept into her voice. "But—Paris—is so far away from me. With an effort she smiled as if she were joking. She would not make Peter feel wretched about leaving her. She had to be gallant about it. She had made this very provision, herself, when she married Peter; that if he had the good fortune to go to Paris, she would wait at home for him and take care of herself. How simple an obligation the last was going to be—ah! the waiting!"

His face sobered; also. "I know. Always something to cloud up a blue sky," he impatiently.

"We'll just have to ride over the cloud like good sports, and come out in the sunshine again to make the most of it," she encouraged him cheerfully, while her heart yearned to hold him with her.

"If I were any good, I should manage to do enough to take up both," he began tentatively.

"And worry about your double obligation until you couldn't make the most of every precious minute you will have abroad. No, Peter, you will go to Paris just as you would have, had you never seen me, or rather, just as you would have not married. You will go free, unhampered with obligations, free to give every hour of your time and yourself to your work. You will take my love with you and our memories, and you will return to me a piglier, better man," she managed to keep her voice firm and practical.

"Well," he admitted, "I'd be all kinds of a thief to drag you away from your work now, for every thing is breaking big for you and you are earning more than I'll be able to for a couple of years, at least—perhaps ever."

Again, he had turned her generous contribution of her happiness toward his career, back to a selfish desire to proceed with her own success and its reward. It hurt her cruelly, but she reasoned that if it were the only way to relieve Peter of his sense of obligation to her, that was the way to leave it. There was no way to convince him that she would rather live wretchedly with him in Paris, or anywhere, than to enjoy the fruits of her own achievements, alone.

"Well—well, my boy," Professor Drake was slapping him on the back and pumping his hand by this time. "Of course, we knew you could do it. And when I saw your entry, I fully expected it."

"But I don't understand," Peter said in dazed and incredulous. "You don't mean that I won the scholarship with that immigrant group?"

"We don't expect you to swallow it all at once, my boy," Ann Carter who had seen much of him during his long association with the professor, chided him. "Take it easy—a word at a time: Peter—Anson—is awarded—the Paris—Scholarship—in—the National—Exhibit."

"All I've got to say is, he doesn't deserve it," Peter roared suddenly, and his sunny face broke into such a smile as it had not worn since his wedding day. "In more ways than one, what I mean. Well, thanks folks, for the compliments all, but I'm off to tell my wife the front page news." And his long legs strode out of the room as if he were discharged from a canon.

He was waiting at the entrance of the building where Camilla worked, when she emerged a few minutes after five o'clock. In one leap, he was beside her, holding her hands and telling her all in one excited breath, "Camilla, I did it—I mean we did it."

"Did what?" she asked, bewildered, but already absorbing the joy which emanated from his whole being.

"The prize—Paris—the immigrant group. You made me enter it—darling," he explained incoherently.

"Peter—not really?" she gasped.

"Absolutely! Here—where can we go to talk—shall we go somewhere for dinner—here, taxi," he summoned a passing cab. And presently, they were settled in the tonneau, holding hands and they were riding out toward Charm Cottage, the favorite rendezvous of their special celebrations.

"Can you believe it?" he demanded, when they were facing each other across their favorite window table.

"Of course, I can. I might have expected it more, except you were so

Progress in Surgery

General Anesthetic No Longer Necessary For Major Operations

The following article by H. H. Bashford, M.D., appeared recently in the Nineteenth Century and After: During the last twenty years there have been very considerable strides in our knowledge of local anesthetics—in the science of inducing an anesthesia, that is to say, sufficient for major operations without the necessity of administering a general anesthetic. It has been found, for instance, that by injecting a suitable solution of some anesthetic drug into the sheath of the spinal cord the roots of both entering and departing nerves—sensory and motor respectively—can be sufficiently affected to produce an entire loss of relaxation, over the whole area of the body below the point of injection. For operations below the waist this has been a development of wide application. It has enabled those to be carried out upon persons suffering from diseased hearts or lungs, in which the administration of a general anesthetic would have been attended with the gravest danger, even if it had been justifiable at all.

"We'll just have to ride over the cloud like good sports, and come out in the sunshine again to make the most of it," she encouraged him cheerfully, while her heart yearned to hold him with her.

"If I were any good, I should manage to do enough to take up both," he began tentatively.

THE RHYMING OPTIMIST

By Allyn Michaels

TO-DAY

To-day means beginning afresh: With the blessing of dawn Comes life, budding out like the east, And the old things are gone.

The old things, forgotten, depart, Be they bitter or sweet, From out of the thought and the life What is past must retreat.

To-day bears a gift in its hands Of peace, and of new contentment, And its light has fired throats of hope Like the promise of spring.

In the past were there sorrows and cares, Was there old tyranny? Then look up and be glad and march For to-day sets you free!

Huge Birthday Cake

Baked For Centenary Of Australian Cities And And 100 Sovereigns

A great birthday cake was made and baked to mark the centenary of Victoria and the capital city of Melbourne, Australia. Into it went ten tons of the finest products of the state of Victoria, including these items: four and one-half tons fruit; three-quarters ton almonds, one and one-half tons butter, one and one-half tons flour, and 36,000 eggs.

Early in the celebrations the cake was cut into a quarter of a million pieces, each piece one-half ounce, which were sold at a nominal price in sealed boxes. One hundred specially minted golden sovereigns were placed in the cake, and every buyer had a chance of winning a rare coin estimated to be worth $500 as a souvenir after the celebration. Near the heart of the city Birthday Cake building was erected, a replica of the cake itself, 50 feet high and 300 feet in circumference, surmounted by 100 candles.

The use of the soybean alone for ensilage is not recommended but high quality ensilage has been produced by a combination of soybeans and corn, mixed in the proportion of about one part soybeans and three parts corn. The two crops can be grown together or they may be produced separately and mixed at the time of filling the silo. Harvesting will be easier and the mixture better obtained where the two crops are grown separately. Soybean pamphlet, Dominion Department of Agriculture.

Illustrating His Sermon

The colored preacher was describing the "bad place" to a congregation of saved listeners.

"Friends," he said, "you've seen this here melted iron running out of a furnace, ain't you all, white-hot sizzling and hissing? Well—"

The preacher pointed a long, lean finger at the frightened crowd. "Well, my friends, they say that stuff for ice cream in the place I been talking about."

Little Helms For This Week

"My meat is to do the will of Him that sent me and to finish His work." John 4:34.

I am glad to think I am not bound to make the world go round. I will trust in Him. That He can hold His own; and I will take His will above the work He sendeth me. To be my chiefest good.—Jean Ingelow

Do not object if you feel your duties are too insignificant. "Whatever thy hand findeth to do, do it with all thy might." If you have brothers, sisters, a father or mother, weigh earnestly what claim does lie upon you on behalf of each, and consider it as the one thing needful to pay them most and more honestly and nobly what you owe. What sweet, how miserable one it is if they can do that.—Thomas Carlyle.

House Cost Sixteen Cents

Cash Outlay Of Serbian Family Was Four Cents

Zadruga in Serbian means a big family where brothers and cousins have not divided the family property but lead a community life, under the leadership usually of the oldest member of the family. These zadrugas are rapidly disappearing in modern times, but there are still some left. The members of one such zadruka have spread their fame all over Yugoslavia. They have built a house which cost them nothing (excepting the cost of their own labor) only 16 cents in American money. This is the zadruka of the family of Kujubitch in the village of Leova Brda, near Futcha, Herzegovina.

As the original house of this zadruka was too small for all the members of the family, it was decided to build a new house. As funds were short, they decided to build everything themselves. Using the stone from their own quarry, they made the slabs, then they cut the necessary wood. Lime which they themselves had made was used. The house was covered with wooden planks and wooden pegs were used, which also they made themselves. Their only cash outlay was made when they bought glass for the windows, and that cost them eight dinars, or 16 cents.

New Type Of Machine

Dragonfly 'Plane Is Entirely Dip And Crash Proof

A new and revolutionary type of flying machine, the "Dragonfly" aeroplane, claimed by the inventor to be the aerodynamic sensation of the century, has been constructed by the Austrian aviation expert, Hamud Ninfuhr.

This flying machine is not dependent upon a screw or propeller, but its flight is rather similar to that of the dragonfly, or the humming bird. The machine is entirely tip and crash proof. It requires a minimum motor impulse, minimum expenditure of fuel, and can glide as a bird does, and even remain for some time practically at a standstill in the air, according to Ninfuhr.

Another Soviet Experiment

Spring Wheat Has Been Planted Within Arctic Circle

Spring sowing has been completed in the world's most northerly wheat belt, the only grain producing region on the earth within the arctic circle. It is the Yakutia region, in the vast, cold plains of northeastern Siberia, populated, ten years ago, by wandering hunters and fishermen, but now the scene of the Soviet's principal experiments in Arctic farming.

More than 188,000 acres of spring wheat has been planted there this year, in addition to 20,000 acres of winter grain, the first winter wheat crop so far attempted.

Yakutia boasts the coldest winters in the world, but the summers are hot and the days nearly twenty-two hours long. Based on the experiment on the calculation that the average monthly summer temperature there is 57 degrees Fahrenheit as compared with only 48 degrees in the Norwegian grain regions, the Soviet put down a first experimental sowing of 97,000 acres of wheat in 1922.

In 1931 the planted area had increased to 188,000 acres. This year the acreage has again been increased and the grain sown earlier.

Wheat and barley were sown in Norway as far north as 70 degrees N. Lat., and in Canada up to the edge of the Arctic circle. Part of Yakutia, in the Kolima river valley, is within the circle itself. Besides grain, potatoes are grown there successfully.
